Campaign Expenses

WASHINGTON, May 24.—The three heaviest campaign spenders as disclosed by evidence before the senate committee today follow: Gov. Frank O. Lowden, $404,081.78; Senator Miles Poindexter, $15,000; Senator Hiram Johnson, $68,138.

Special to The World.

WASHINGTON, May 24.—Governor Lowden of Illinois has spent $7,500 in Oklahoma in an effort to get delegates. L. L. Emerson, campaign manager of the Illinois governor admitted before the senate committee investigating pre-convention costs today.

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 24.—Evidence that $104,984.78 has been spent in behalf of Governor Lowden, republican, and a charge that the outlay in the Ohio primary contest between Senator Harding, republican, of that state, and General Leonard Wood, republican, was for the purpose of "looking like a piker," were the high spots of testimony at the opening today of the senate's investigation into pre-convention campaign expenditures.

Frank H. Hitchcock, former postmaster general, appearing as a representative of General Wood, gave little light on the general's campaign expenses and Senator Harding's manager was not heard today. He was examined later by Colonel William C. Procter of Cincinnati, A. A. Sprague of Chicago, Horace Stebbins of New York, and John H. Egan of Cleveland, Wood campaign managers.

L. L. Emerson, secretary of state for Illinois, was spokesman for Governor Lowden. He was armed with records and cancelled checks and gave figures, names, dates and localities. Of the total spent for Governor Lowden, he said, $379,175.78 was contributed by the governor himself. Friends gave $35,825, he testified, before collections were stopped on orders from Mr. Lowden.

Detailing expenditures, Mr. Emerson testified that a total of $156,243 was sent into different states, the Michigan primary campaign with $59,141 taking the most.

In Georgia, he put $9,000 to Henry Lincoln Johnson, Mr. Emerson said.

In Alabama $1,000 to a man named Irwin; in Oklahoma $7,500 to J. W. Kayser; Texas, $5,000 to George P. Rockwell; to Virginia $1 sent none, but the Washington headquarters has perhaps sent some.

In South Dakota we spent $9,783, Fred Sterling of Illinois represented him.

The Lowden committee, he said, had sent $28,000 into Missouri.

Senator Reed, democrat of that state, questioned him at some length to determine the method of its use, since there was no primary election.

"Getting out the Lowden sentiment," he said.

Find Billion Dollars Worth of Food Stored Up in Chicago

Investigations Disclose There "Is No Shortage" While "Profiteers" Are Reaping "Financial Harvest" Say Probers—Denied Help by Federal Agents.

By JOHN F. DELANEY

International News Service Staff Correspondent.

CHICAGO, May 24.—One billion dollars' worth of food reposes in the cold and dry storage warehouses, on the railroad tracks and in other secret places in Chicago.

Food speculators are reaping a financial harvest, the public in general being excited over the possibility of a famine—and in the meantime dealers handling foods are sending forth propaganda indicating abundance of sugar, eggs and other commodities.

The International News Service and the Chicago Evening American after a thorough investigation by a staff of reporters, herewith present for the first time an account of food in Chicago, one of the nation's main food centers.

This investigation shows, there is speculation in foodstuffs, especially sugar, pinking the nonproductive brokers' rich at the expense of the consumers. In an effort to obtain the facts in Chicago it was determined to seek actual sworn figures from the warehouses, railroads and the United States bureau of markets of the agricultural department. These efforts failed.

In the last mentioned case, a public bureau was announced by the government officials in charge that they had a "gentleman's agreement" with the warehousemen and could not reveal individual figures.

The bureau also announced that all of the warehouses do not report to it and those that do report only certain commodities—five out of about 20. When this condition was learned it was decided to send men into the warehouses on the present the actual situation to the public.

The investigations not only obtained facts and figures as to the warehouse contents, but also photographs showing catacombs of flour, millions of pounds of candy, dunnage of eggs and huge pyramids of sugar, potatoes, butter and other foodstuffs.

In the course of investigating the Central Cold Storage warehouse the writer actually got lost amid 1,000,000 pounds of cheese. There was $50,000,000 worth of food in this warehouse alone, including 33,000,000 eggs, 4,000,000 pounds of frozen pork, 3,000,000 pounds of frozen chickens and 5,000,000 pounds of steak.

Tabulated figures as to conditions found in a number of other leading warehouses in the city:

Ontario warehouse—Million's of pounds of food.

Monarch Refrigerating company—90,000,000 eggs, 35,000,000 pounds of cheese and more than 2,000,000 pounds of poultry.

Chicago Cold Storage warehouse—1,000,000,000 pounds of candy, a side light on the why and wherefore of the sugar "shortage."

Some senate republicans predicted the message would lie in the senate committee indefinitely.

Senator Lodge, chairman of the senate committee, and republican leader, offered no comment on the executive's message. In the past, however, he has declared emphatic opposition to a mandate.

Senator Harding, republican of Ohio, chairman of the committee which investigated Armenian affairs said he would never consent to taking a mandate over Armenia and added he did not think the senate would consent.

"The foreign relations committee," he said, "was almost unanimous against a mandate, democrats as well as republicans."

Senator Harding is author of the senate resolution, recently adopted, congratulating the Armenian people on recognition of their independence and asking the president to send a warship and American marines to Baku.

The question of an Armenian mandate was discussed in the report of the American mission to Armenia, recently presented to the senate. General Harbord estimated the acceptance of the mandate would not cost the United States more than 50,000 American troops there. The other estimates, however, have placed it at least once the Turkish army had been demobilized.

Passage of the Harding resolution, it was said, was intended to replace one by Senator Williams declaring in favor of the Armenian mandate.

Notice that the president would fix the boundary lines was given to the council of ambassadors at Paris last Saturday by Ambassador Wallace.

"I received and read this document with great interest, not only because it embodies my own convictions and dealings with regard to Armenia and its people, but also, and more particularly because it seemed to me to be the expression of the sentiment of the American people."

ATTEMPT TO KILL HOYNE

Italians in Chicago Make Effort to Slay State's Attorney.

CHICAGO, May 24.—Four Italian gunmen known to have arrived in Chicago recently from the notorious Cherry Hill district of New York are hunted by detectives today in connection with two attempts made Sunday to assassinate Mackey Hoyne, state's attorney of Cook county.

The gunmen are reported to have frequented a pool room here owned by a relative of "Big Jim" Colosimo, underworld leader slain in his safe several days ago. The pool room owner, Frank Chiravolotto, like Colosimo, was known to be friendly with Michael Carozzo, Vincenzo Ciamano and other Italian labor leaders now facing trial for the murder of "Boss" Enright, late chief of Chicago's labor gunmen.

Mr. Hoyne has announced that he will seek the death penalty for the Italians.

ACTS ON SENATE'S STAND

Resolution Adopted by Upper House in Line With His Views Says Wilson.

WASHINGTON, May 24.—President Wilson today asked authority from congress for the United States to accept a mandate over Armenia.

The president's message was read in both houses and senate, but was not discussed. Each house referred it to its foreign relations committee and there was no indication when either committee would take it up.

Some senate republicans predicted the message would lie in the senate committee indefinitely.

Senator Lodge, chairman of the senate committee, and republican leader, offered no comment on the executive's message. In the past, however, he has declared emphatic opposition to a mandate.

TEXAS DELEGATES GO FREE

Indications Are That No Candidate Will Be Indorsed Today.

DALLAS, May 24.—With party leaders predicting that the meeting will be more in the nature of a celebration than a political conference, delegates to the national convention of Texas will be called to order here at 11 o'clock tomorrow to select delegates to the democratic national convention at San Francisco.

Fifty-two delegates probably will be elected to cast Texas' 40 votes at San Francisco. This number, according to tentative plans, will comprise two delegates with one vote each from each of the 18 Texas congressional districts and 16 delegates at large with one-quarter of a vote each. The delegate probably will go unopposed other than to endorse the national administration. It is not impossible that several women will be included in the Texas representation.

Serve Ultimatum on Villa to Stop Outlawry Career

By The Associated Press.

ABOARD SPECIAL TRAIN OF GENERAL CALLES, PIA FLOOR, Coahuila, Mexico, May 22 (via El Paso, May 24).—The de facto authorities of Mexico have served an ultimatum on Francisco Villa, giving him until May 25 to decide whether he is to be at peace or at war with the new government, Gen. P. Elias Calles announced late today.

In making the announcement, General Calles gave the Associated Press his complete correspondence with Villa. Calles is minister of war under the de facto government.

On May 29 at Chihuahua, General Calles announced he submitted to Villa the following proposition:

"1. That Villa declare his retirement to private life.

"2. That Villa declare his retirement to private life permanently but with permission to go anywhere he pleases.

"3. Such of Villa's men as desired to remain in the army would be attached to Calles' forces, for their own greater security.

The day after this proposition was made, Villa, he telegraphed General Calles he would consult with his chief and communicate a decision within a few days. In this communication Villa said he "was not the leader of a band, but head of a military and political party."

Villa thanked Calles for giving him a "few days of rest."

General Calles is taking strong measures for an eventual victory over the revolutionary forces. He has sent a thousand cavalrymen already have been started from Coahuila to Torreon for operations in Durango and another 1,800 from Coahuila for operations in Chihuahua.

Falls to Subdue Villa.

Confirmation reached the state department today of the failure of Gen. P. Elias Calles to effect an adjustment between the revolutionary forces and Villa. Ignacio Enriquez was said to have left Chihuahua Saturday with a strong force to co-operate with other troops in the pursuit of Villa who was reported at Boniquillas.

One development came here today when Luis N. Morones, a confidential agent sent here by Obregon, called at the white house to leave President Wilson a message signed by Obregon containing reassuring declarations as to the aims of the revolutionaries.

Morones, the generally acknowledged leader of Mexican labor, was accompanied by Samuel Gompers. He also accompanied by a personal statement expressing belief that a strong and unopposed government would be established.

Villa's chance for making more trouble was minimized by the government's representatives here, who said it would be difficult for him to recruit a force of more than a few hundred men.

On the acceptance for cause of the twelfth juror in district court yesterday morning the jury before which Charles Krieger is to be tried for conspiracy to dynamite the home of J. E. Pew, was this city on Oct. 29, 1917, was sworn and at the afternoon session, opening statements were made by A. Nicodemus, assistant county attorney and by Fred H. Moore, counsel for the defendant.

At the conclusion of the statements, Pew was placed on the stand and described his impression of the dynamite explosion which wrecked his home, in which he with his wife and two children were living at that time.

On cross examination Pew declared himself positive the explosion was caused by dynamite, nitro-glycerine, and that in addition to the characteristic odor following the explosion, marks of the fuse leading to the dynamite were found on the stone of the porch and sidewalk.

In the state's opening statement, Attorney Nicodemus declared it would be shown that Krieger, an admitted member of the Industrial Workers of the World, had conspired with John Hall, Frank Benson and Hubert Vowels to destroy the home of Pew, at that time in charge of the Carter Oil company interests in this district. Krieger, he said, was to pay the three for dynamite, but failed to do so after the outrage was committed, according to the testimony of Vowels at the first trial.

After nine days, the following jurors were selected and sworn to try this case, which will probably be concluded the last of next week: J. E. Pew, J. W. E. Eoff, J. A. Jackson, Tulsa; W. E. Eoff, Tulsa; W. R. Martin, Muskogee; G. E. Moran, Bixby; Moss Conner, Leonard; A. Gallup, Tulsa; William H. Hadden, Tulsa; W. C. Bryant, Leonard; Jacob Lieberman, Tulsa; E. C. Wood, Tulsa; J. H. Featherstone, Bixby.

Reaction Follows and Forces Are Reported Ready to Arm.

Prominent Leaders Reported Behind Attempt to Avenge Chief's Murder.

PROMISE U. S. FRIENDSHIP

Message From Obregon Is Left at White House by Mexican Labor Leader.

WASHINGTON, May 24.—Official interest in the Mexican situation was intensified today by reports of widespread reaction resulting from the killing of V. Carranza, deposed president. These indications were accompanied with information that the de facto government might face almost immediately not only the problem of reducing Villa to submission, but also more important, armed opposition.

Reports reached Washington today from Mexico City that men prominent in political affairs were suspected of preparing to take advantage of the indignation caused by Carranza's death to lead an avenging movement as did Carranza when Madero was assassinated.

Confirmation reached the state department today of the failure of Gen. P. Elias Calles to effect an adjustment between the revolutionary forces and Villa. THOUGHTS TO THINK ABOUT

SUCCESS THOUGHTS.

It might be well said that nothing succeeds like thinking. Success thoughts, if persisted in, lead to successful action. For the majority of men, however, this ability to persist in right thinking is never developed beyond the temporary or spasmodic stage, which accounts for the fact that the number of men who fail are in the big majority.

Have you ever known how the habit of reading and using The World Want Columns of this newspaper will train you to thinking success and also to achieving it? The whole spirit of the Want Ads is one of progress.
